14B News:

For Newsround this week 14B thought about 'Doodles' - they read an article and watched a clip then made their own!

UK ART NEWS

A MANSION MADE OF DOODLES!

All doodles created by the artist in their living room.

A MAN has covered his entire house in Kent in black and white doodles!

Artist Sam Cowley known as Mr Doodle, has transformed all corners in his mansion. Nothing has been left untouched. The kitchen, living room, bathroom and bedroom are all decorated with doodles. He has doodled on the furniture, cushions, appliances and bed linen!

"The inside of the house, which used to be a decoration for bright white paint, has also been given a doodle makeover."

The artist's home has taken him time to complete another season of equipment but in fact, he's used up 800 litres of white paint, 400 cans of black spray paint, 280 bottles of drawing paint and 2200 pen nibs!

Sam, who has a stroke, has used a robot of the arm to create his doodles, which have now had millions of views.

The artist said: "The completion of the Doodle House is just the beginning of my childhood dream to doodle the entire planet and to encourage the art world to recognise doodles as an art form."

Look at the story 'A mansion made of doodles'

1. How would you explain what a doodle is?
2. Match the amounts with the items Mr Doodle used to doodle his mansion.

900 litres	black spray paint
401 cans	pen nibs
280 bottles	drawing paint
2.2%	white paint
3. Would you like to visit or live in the mansion covered in doodles?
4. Can you think of three different types of art form? Do you think doodles should be considered an art form?

12S News:

12S Have been working on their independent living skills, students have been kindly ironing and folding the uniforms for blossom tree cafe staff. Pupil also made their own dinner to include chips which they made from scratch and an amazing Chocolate cake.
